Dear Mrs. Van Antwerp:

It was unfortunate the weather last Saturday interfered with our plans to inspect your Heldeberg property. It has been agreed we would not make the trip excepting in fair weather.

However, we are still very much interested in a transmitter site in the vicinity of the Heldebergs and at the very first opportunity would appreciate having another attempt at it.

My plans for next week are indefinite. But as soon as I know when I will have time available, I will telephone you for an appointment and will be glad to drive you there and back if you are without transportation. Very soon now the mountains will be shedding the winter's snow accumulation and the roads will become usable again. Let's hope so.

You will hear from me again soon.

Cordially yours,

Ernest A. Barbeau
