Dear Frank:

Have been layed up since Friday with a septic sore throat and have been miserable. Feel better tonight.

There is not a thing we can do at the mountain while this snow condition persists although John Orsini told me over the phone Friday that as soon as things settle down and warms up a bit, they will go back there and continue with the work of clearing.

You told me over the telephone that John Broderick will make the Hotel Troy lease for January first in which case we then will be ready to tackle the studios with the architect. I have heard nothing further from you and assume you have decided on giving Morgan a shot at the job - if he wants it.

I'm going to Oswego tomorrow on the Empire (if I feel well enough) to be there for the final checking incident to officially going on the air with WOPT-FM New Year's Eve. I expect to be on the speakers list for a brief address. Expect to be back home New Year's Day unless something unavoidable detains me.

I was too darn sick today to call you on the telephone as I said I would. I'm grateful, however, that I feel much better tonight.

Will call you Friday morning. A very Happy and prosperous New Year to you.

Sincerely,
